

Forschungspraxis

Nonlinearity mitigation techniques for information transmission over optical fiber

Recently, we have proposed a modified channel model with distributed bandpass filters that removes some Four-Wave Mixing terms from the optical fiber channel. In this research internship, we aim to evaluate how these filters improve information transmission.

Advisors

Francisco Javier Garcia Gomez