

Bachelor's Thesis

Shell mapping VHDL implementation

Shell mapping is a technique to index sequences according to a per letter Cost constraint - like Energy of a constellation point.

The student's task is to implement a shell mapping encoder and decoder in VHDL for a FPGA.

Prerequisites

VHDL knowledge

Advisors

Peihong Yuan, Patrick Schulte